DEAR MOM AND DAD:

We, the Senior Class of 1957, do with great pleasure, dedicate our annual to you, our parents, for all that you have done for us during all our school years.

Words can not express our profound gratitude for all that you have enabled us to do. You have given us joyful memories of our wonderful school years, a pattern by which to live, and countless numbers of services rendered.

So, to you, Mom and Dad, to all of you, it is our greatest pleasure to dedicate this, our annual, to you, our parents.

We only hope that we may prove to be a credit to you in this world, today.

Love,

THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1957

IN YOUR GALLERY

By Mr. E. W. Kracht, Principal

Let us get away from our matter of fact surroundings for a moment as we step into the world of fantasy. Imagine yourself walking down a long hall on the walls of which pictures are hanging. You spend much of your time in the gallery looking at the pictures which adorn the walls.

Some of the pictures are beautiful and it is a delight to see them. Others are so ugly that you shudder when your eye falls upon them. Some are amusing, others sadden you. Many of them are so faded as to be unrecognizable. Many are growing dim while others are as clear and bright as they were on the day they were placed upon the wall.

There is one peculiar fact about these pictures. You hung them all yourself. All your life you have been hanging them, though you seldom give much thought to their selection. You seemed to pick them up at random and put them on the wall. It is strange that you should have done this, for once the pictures have been added to the collection, you go back to them time after time, day after day.

Since the pictures are so carelessly selected, many of them are sordid and ugly, but no matter, you will return to them time and again. If too many of them are depressing, your personality and disposition may be affected and you may be very unhappy. If the pictures are joyous and beautiful, you will be a most fortunate person.

Did I say it was a world of fantasy of which I was speaking? No, it really is not! The gallery is your mind and the pictures are your memories. Each day you hang up, in your mind, pictures of memory. Some of them will fade with time, but others will be with you as long as you live. You are not done with today's actions when the sun goes down. You will look back on them through all the days and years to come.

What are you contributing today, to your future memories? How will things you are now doing look in retrospect? What of the pictures you are hanging today—the pictures you will be viewing through all your tomorrows? When you recall in memory your actions of today, will you be proud or ashamed, happy or depressed? Will the memory of what you do today haunt you or inspire you? These are questions to consider as you build your gallery from day to day.

CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of 1953, sixty shy, little greenies entered Eagle River High School. Taking courage and commencing to believe that we were of some importance (if it was nothing more than to keep the teachers busy) we held a class meeting for the purpose of electing class officers. It took a lot of courage to nominate someone, but with the help of our class advisor, Mr. Freymiller, we elected Jim Dussault as President, Judy DeWitt as Vice President, Marjorie Olson as Treasurer, and Therese Stein as Secretary. Carol Byington and Carl Nelson represented our class in the Student Council. Judy DeWitt was nominated as our Homecoming Queen candidate.

At the beginning of our Sophomore year, we were happy to welcome Ingrid Mueller, a girl from Germany. That year John Morley was elected President, Carl Nelson was Vice President, Janice Johnson was Treasurer and Donna Kleppe was Secretary. Judy DeWitt and Jim Dussault were elected to the Student Council. Donna Kleppe was our Homecoming Queen candidate. That year we lost Patty Adkins, Janet Belongia, Joanne Kolbeck, Ingrid Mueller, Gail Pride, Wilma Rerutko, Elaine Sheffler, Peter Edmonds, who moved to California, and Clifford Small, who joined the Army.

The next year we came back as upperclassmen. We knew there was no deed in the world we couldn't accomplish. The election returns showed that our ruling body consisted of Jim Griffin as President, Mike Brucker as Vice President, Janice Johnson as Secretary, and Danny Rogers as Treasurer. Helen Kunard and Clark Byington, a new-comer, were elected as Student Council members.

Our big project for the year was the Prom. It took a lot of work, time and patience, but everyone had a good time, so it wasn't all in vain. Our theme was "Under Paris Skies." Jim Griffin chose Donna Kleppe to reign with him.

That year our class decreased slightly, when we lost Neil Rublee and Jim Kenny. Our candidate for Homecoming Queen was Kay Williams.

In September of 1956, we entered school looking forward to our Commencement days. Each year they had loomed clearer, but now when we find that our hopes have materialized, commencement assumes a different aspect. Our final ruling body consisted of Gary Ehle as President, Dan Healy as Vice President, Sally Hermanson as Secretary, and Geraldine Olson was chosen as Treasurer. Madeline Trollan and John Morley were elected to the Student Council.

Soon our class will be scattered all over the country, possibly all over the world, but no matter where we roam, we shall all have a common interest—an interest in the welfare of Eagle River High School.

CLASS PROPHECY

LARRY HAYNER

He decided to work in the city
And very successful was he,
His secret was, he was witty,
That is very plain to see.

LOIS WEBER

She finds pleasure in waiting on tables
In the big city of Milwaukee.
About her job are many good fables,
And many nice people meets she.

CARL NELSON

An intelligent soul now I see
For lessons he is learning again.
He still carries his books with glee,
But now—at the U. of Wisconsin.

GARY EHLE

Many violators met their fall,
When they tried to violate.
For Gary was always on the beam,
With his officials as a team.

HELEN KUNARD

A stewardess job was her goal,
Which she so nicely did obtain.
She flies in weather, fair or foul,
Through snow, sleet and rain.

DAN HEALY

Throughout all his school years
He was employed in the A & P.
Later in life, 'mid many tears
The manager of the store became he.

PHYLLIS OLSON

A missionary became she,
Traveling from place to place.
Working hard for a very small fee,
With many problems to face.

MADELINE TROLLAN

Always traveling here and there,
Over the entire land.
Making speeches everywhere,
Welcomed always by a band.

THERESE STEIN

To teach U.S. History was her notion,
So to the University she went.
She worked at her studies with great devotion,
And at graduation a fine job was lent.

DONNA KLEPPE

A private secretary she became,
And sat upon her boss' knee.
When she tired of this game,
A housewife and mother became she.

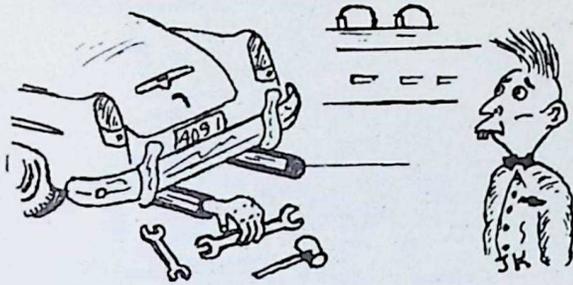

HENRY CARLSON

He wanted to explore the North Pole,
Or the frigid land near Alaska.
He has set up his tents and soul,
And collected much important data.

CAROL OLSON

Washing hair and fixing nails
Is what she enjoys doing;
The women know she never fails,
Thanks to her years of schooling.

JIM GRIFFIN

He's going through college
With main and with might,
But for this smart lad,
It's not much of a fight!

MAXINE McQUIRE

In Reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic,
As a teacher she won her fame,
Teaching to the tune of a hickory stick,
For the children she sought to tame.

DONALD CASEY

Don went to Africa one day,
For hunting was his sport.
The big game was play,
He had a specie of every sort.

CAROLYN ROSS

To Washington D. C. she did go,
Where she secured her job,
And when rolling in the dough,
She found herself a Bob.

MIKE BRUCKER

College bound, this lad has planned,
To search the sky for stars.
The stars will be studied and scanned,
And a success he'll be, "by Mars!"

GERALDINE OLSON

This girl has gathered knowledge
For sixteen solitary years.
Now upon finishing college,
She will never have any fears.

SHARON CHAMPEAU

Undecided in what to do,
Her goal always the best,
Getting her name in Who's Who,
She has always passed the test.

JULIUS KUKANICH

As a mechanic he gained his fame
When he fixed the President's car,
And certainly wasn't to blame
If it didn't go very far.

EDWINA CARLSON

After concluding a business course,
Secretarial work she sought,
And when she tired of her horse,
A Cadillac she bought.

TOM DONNLEY

A born designer was this lad.
He doodled all day long,
Now he's designing new fads
For corporations going strong.

ROSALIE RADDATZ

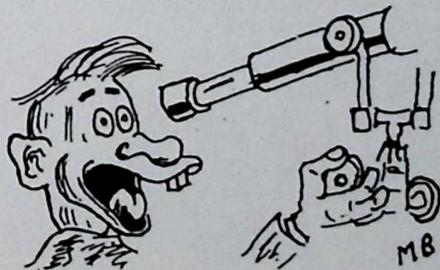

A secretarial job was this gal's ideal.
With this goal in mind, we certainly did feel
Her shorthand, typing and wonderful smile,
Took this girl places in a very short while.

GENE AHLBORN

At the end of the term he did graduate,
And big sums of money did earn.
So Gene, we'll have to congratulate,
For progression in his trucking firm.

CAROL BYINGTON

To become a secretary was her aim,
With her friendliness and all,
And through the years she remained the same,
When answering every call.

EVA LANGNER

A letter we did get this day,
With Eva's special type.
Her company has prospered, I must say,
Her boss has no reason to gripe.

JANICE JOHNSON

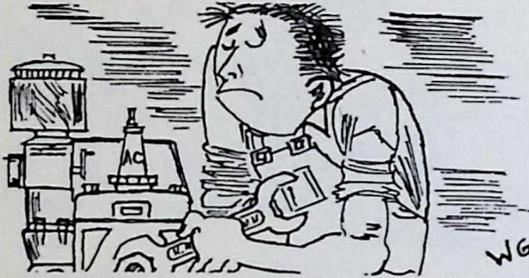

She always did say that some fine day
She'd become a dentist's assistant.
And I always knew she'd have her way,
'Cause this gal is quite persistent.

CHARLES MANTEUFEL

Many fields are open to him,
For he is a man of wit.
His future won't be dim,
For he has always made a hit.

GRACE KMICHIK

I'll curl up and dye for you,
As a very fine beautician.
For this I would rather do,
Than become a politician.

CLARK BYINGTON

College was his first plan,
To become a scientist, you see.
But off to Tibet he ran,
The purpose of life sought he.

JIM FERRON

Have you seen those lines
Of his fine, new, slick auto?
"Drive the finest of the times,"
Has always been his motto.

JOHN MORLEY

An electrical engineer he became,
And from that field gained his fame.
The marvelous results of his work will be,
On exhibit, one day, for us to see.

GAIL GIRA

To be a psychiatrist was this girl's aim.
And that's exactly what she became.
Helping people, she won her fame,
All their troubles, she did tame.

KAY WILLIAMS

If you ever have a rip or tear,
Just go to Paris to Kay.
She has the very finest wear
That you'd ever want, I'd say.

CAROL ANDERSON

Carol's goal was in an orphanage,
Caring for homeless children.
We wished her success in the ideals she seeks,
She's really one in a million.

WAYNE GOUGH

Through the days he would toil
In the hot open field,
Plowing and turning up the soil.
Many, many crops he did yield.

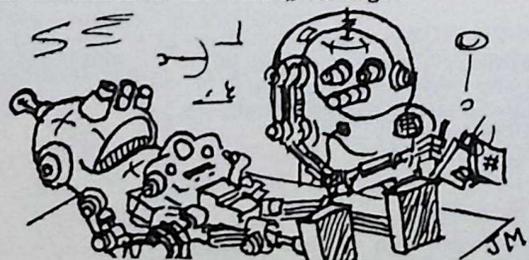

HERMAN GARBISCH

In the Air Force he gained his fame
While flying his plane on high.
Many a Red was his game
From his B-47 in the sky.

GLEN EHLE

Off he went into the wild blue yonder,
Ridin' high up in the sky.
For on the ground he did not wander,
But remained in the clouds on high.

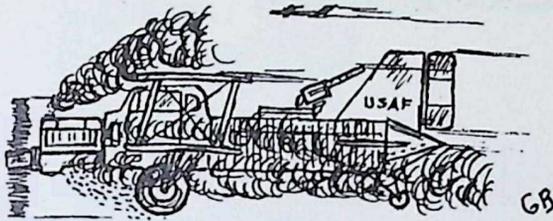

DONALD OLSON

Off to the U. he flew like a flash,
And in agriculture was a great smash.
He was a great farmer, raised many a crop.
He had many successes and ne'er a flop.

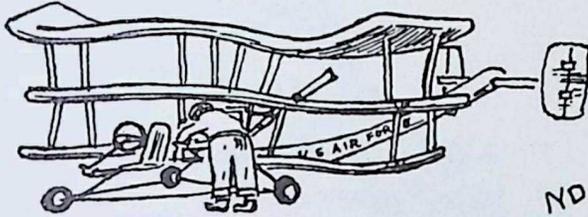

JIM DUSSAULT

Jim Dussault is his name,
A Nuclear Physicist he became.
The Atom he did tame,
And this huge task won him fame.

RONALD ANDERSON

What purpose in life shall I seek,
A doctor, lawyer, or scientist, maybe?
No, I wouldn't work at that for a week.
I'd like it better in the Navy.

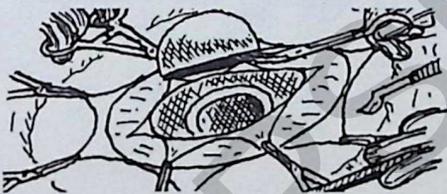

DAN ROGERS

Danny Rogers, a space cadet,
Flew up to the moon.
Some green cheese, he did get,
With his silver spoon.

JUDITH DeWITT

A white clad figure dashes down the hall
To a patient who has sent a sudden call.
'Tis Judy, busy helping all,
A nurse that is always on duty's call.

LORETTA VOSE

A very fine nurse was she,
When she began her career in life.
Until one day she met ????
And began another career as a wife.

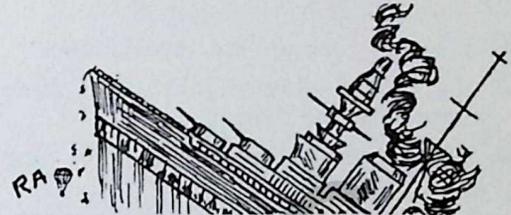

SALLY HERMANSON

Here is a nurse proficient and wise,
Working so hard at Columbia.
Cheering with those early to rise,
The hours, she simply defies.

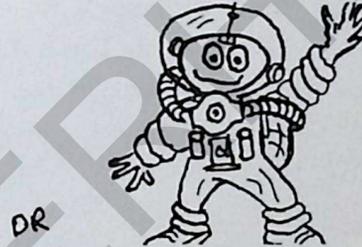

GERALD BREEN

He made the Air Force his career,
And flew around the world, one day.
The height he did not fear,
He said, "Good deal, more fun that way."

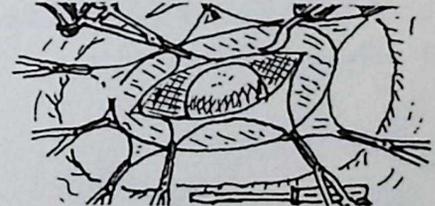

NILES DUMKE

Into the Air Force he did go,
To see what he could see.
Not caring for what was below,
A wonderful pilot was he.

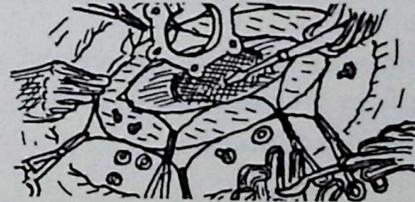

MARGIE OLSON

To teach little children was her delight,
So she taught them very well;
They learned to tell wrong from right,
By the wayside they never fell.

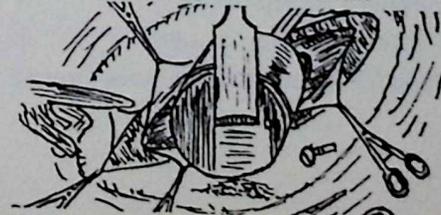

SALLY QUINN

As a surgical nurse, she tops her field,
With deft, rapid movements her instruments wield.
Her courage and endurance will help her get by,
For this is her motto, "Try, always try."

SUSAN HOLMGREN

Susan Holmgren, nurse in charge,
Is the name plate on her door.
She is O. R. Nurse, and nurse at large,
She's found her glory on this floor.

Although the "Eagles" were one of the shortest teams of the conference, with Henry Carlson, the only player over 6 feet tall, they showed a lot of spirit and determination. They managed to win four conference games and four other games were lost by a very small margin. The most heart-breaking loss was to Crandon by a score of 52 to 51.

The team was braced by four Seniors, Henry Carlson, Mike Brucker, Herman Garbisch and Carl Nelson; and two Juniors, Tom Rateau and John Dussault. Jim Delich, a Freshman, and Dick Weissinger, a Junior, also showed a lot of promise.

The leading scorer was Mike Brucker, with 208 points in 15 games. Henry Carlson was second with 125 points.

MOCK ELECTION OFFICERS

Judy Olson (Senator), Chet Myers (Vice President), Jim Dussault (President), Jim Morley Senator).

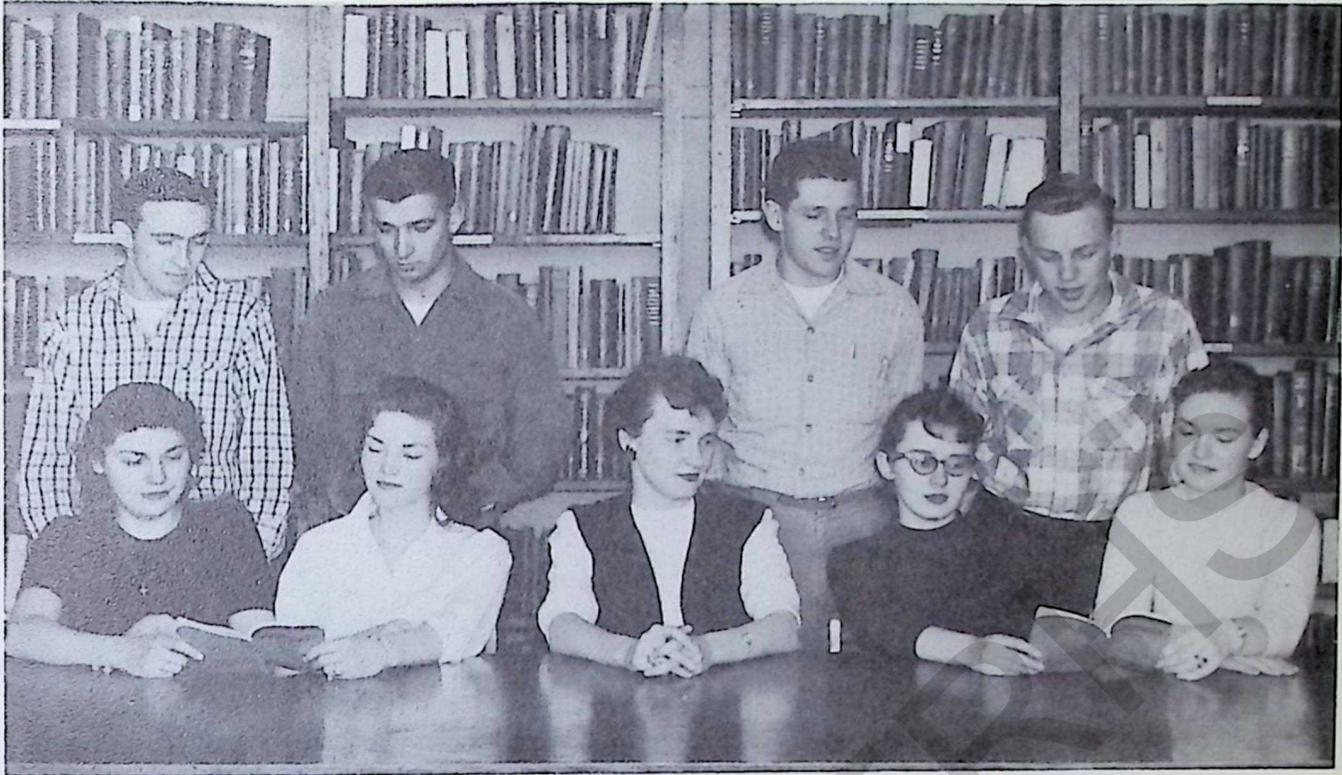

Election day, November 6, 1956, Eagle River High School students voted the Nationalist team of Jim Dussault and Chet Myers, campaigning for the Presidency and Vice Presidency respectively, victors in the Mock Election, sponsored by the Student Council.

The Students were divided into two political parties, Nationalist and Federalist. Federalist ticket candidates were: president, Carl Nelson, vice president, Tom Tuttle, senators, Pat Kaminski and Jim Morley. Representing the Nationalist party on the ballot were: president, Jim Dussault, vice president, Chet Myers, senators, Judy Olson and John Dussault.

President of the Student Council, John Morley, with the assistance of Mrs. Hanke, organized the Mock Election and this novel experience in government activities proved to be very beneficial to all involved. Candidates outlined their respective platforms in speeches presented to the student body, which then decided on the best man for the job in their opinion.

Nationalist presidential and vice presidential candidates failed to carry the whole election, as the vote was split by the election of Nationalist Judy Olson and Federalist Jim Morley for U.S. Senators.

ONE ACT PLAYS

"Sunday Costs Five Pesos"

Characters:

FidelPeter Bukalski
 BertaSherry Farrell
 SalomeCharlotte Thomas
 ToniaLinda Staffen
 CelestinaPat Kaminski

"Sunday Costs Five Pesos," a hilarious comedy of small town Mexican folk, directed by Miss Ylen, won first place in ERHS One-Act-Play Contest. The cast performed in the district contest at Wabeno, December 4, and received a "B".

An old Mexican law, "A woman who starts a fight on Sunday must pay a fine of five pesos," is the basis of this play. Berta suspects Fidel, her lover, of flirting with Celestina. Fidel's explanations fall on deaf ears but Berta's friends, Salome and Tonia, concoct a story to bring Fidel back. Celestina and Berta meet and are hesitant about engaging in a fight, so compete in a guessing contest. Salome tries to help Berta but winds up in a fierce struggle with Celestina. Everything works out in the end and marriage is in sight for Berta and Fidel.

Back Row: Miss Ylen, Director, Peter Bukalski, Sherry Farrell.
 Front Row: Charlotte Thomas, Pat Kiminski, Linda Staffen.

"Pink and Patches"

Characters:

TexieHelen Kunard
 RexieMickey Liston
 MaMadeline Trollan
 Mrs. AllenGail Gira

In a charming hillbilly atmosphere, "Pink and Patches," written by Margaret Bland and directed by Mrs. Wheeler, portrayed Texie's innate love of the beautiful.

Texie had spent 15 drudgerous years in a cabin home with her contented mother and twin brother, Rexie, who believed "wimin folks" were created to work for their "men folks."

A society woman, Mrs. Allen, opened a new world for Texie and how Texie learns to face life's reality are told humorously.

Back Row: Helen Kunard, Madeline Trollan.
 Front Row: Gail Gira, Mrs. Wheeler, Director, Mickey Liston.

"The Game of Chess"

Characters:

Alexis AlexandrovitchTerry Wandsnider
 Boris IvanovitchLouis Stimac
 ConstantineJerry Eliason
 FootmanMichael Obrodovich

Do you think that chess is just a game in which to spend leisure hours? "The Game of Chess," written by Kenneth Sawyer Goodman, and under the direction of Mr. Brocker, proved that drama, suspense, excitement, mystery, and yes, even murder can be featured around a game of chess.

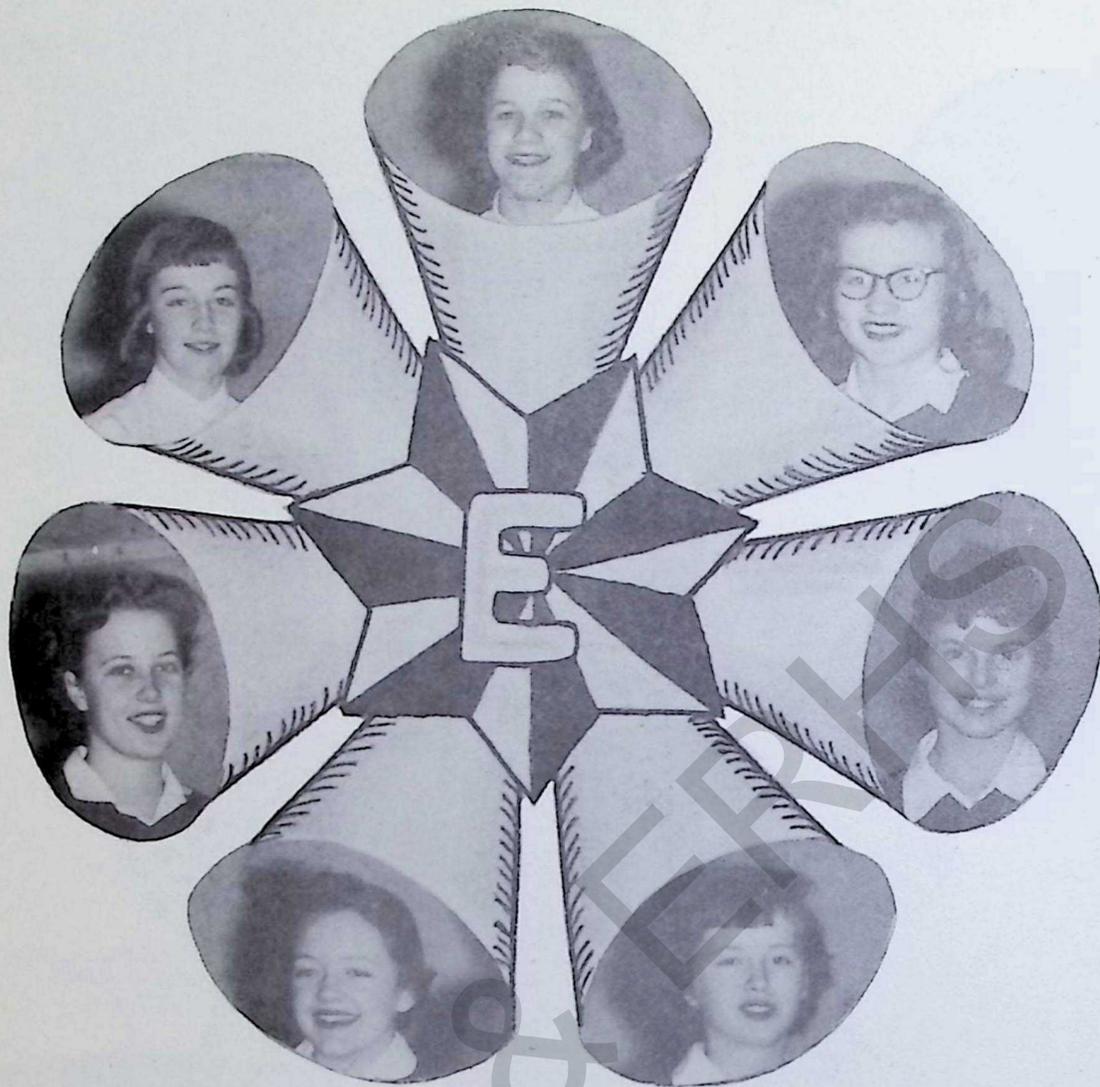

To Alexis Alexandrovitch, a bad chess game means that he has ceased to be a competent governor in Russia. To prove to himself and Constantine, who holds doubts of Alexis' courage, Alexis grants an interview to Boris, knowing that Boris' mission is Alexis' assassination. A thrilling drama unfolds, holding its audience in rapt attention. Quick and clever thinking, plus an Oriental trick concerning poison, makes Alexis victor over his enemy and gives him peace of mind once again.

Back Row: Mr. Brocker, Director, Mickey Obrodovich.

Karenke, C. Nelson, C. Wolter, D. Healey, K. Stallman.

The Eagle River Eagles had a down season, compared to the seasons of the past few years. As it has been recently, the only non-conference game was with Milwaukee Country Day. The Eagles' record of one win and six losses in conference play is a little sad, but though the Eagles had lost seventeen Seniors, they showed some of the best spirit seen in many years.

The Eagles were held scoreless for the first five games. This was snapped as Carl "Cud" Nelson made the first score in the sixth game against Wabeno. They went on to score another, but still lost by a small margin.

In the last game against Crandon, the Eagles, especially the Seniors, were bound and determined to win, which they did, by a fine score of 34 to 0. As usual, there was a spark plug to the team, none other than Dan "Bear" Rogers, who was also chosen most valuable player. John Dussault was given the honor of team captain. The team was kept moving by Carl Nelson, who was converted to quarterback, this year, by Coach Hanke.

The boys who did fine work in the back field on offense, were Jim Dussault, halfback; Jim Griffin, halfback; and Mike Brucker, halfback. Dan Healey was injured early in the season, but saw most of his action on defense.

The boys in the line, who have fine showings, were Clark Byington, end; Henry Carlson, tackle; Dan Rogers, guard; Gene Ahlborn, tackle; Chuck Manteufel, tackle; and Gerald Breen, guard.
