There's no time for formal introductions. We have too much to see here at Northland Pines High School. Slip into some comfortable shoes and follow me around. Keep your eyes and ears open. You just might learn something about life at NPHS - either from my fantastic photography or my dynamic dialog! Let's start with the PEOPLE that inhabit our school.

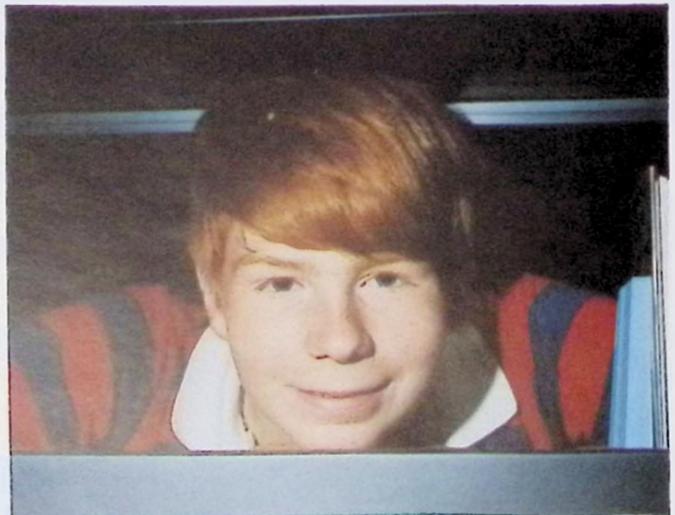

Think this smile could make me President?

Mr. Anderson, you want me to be student director?

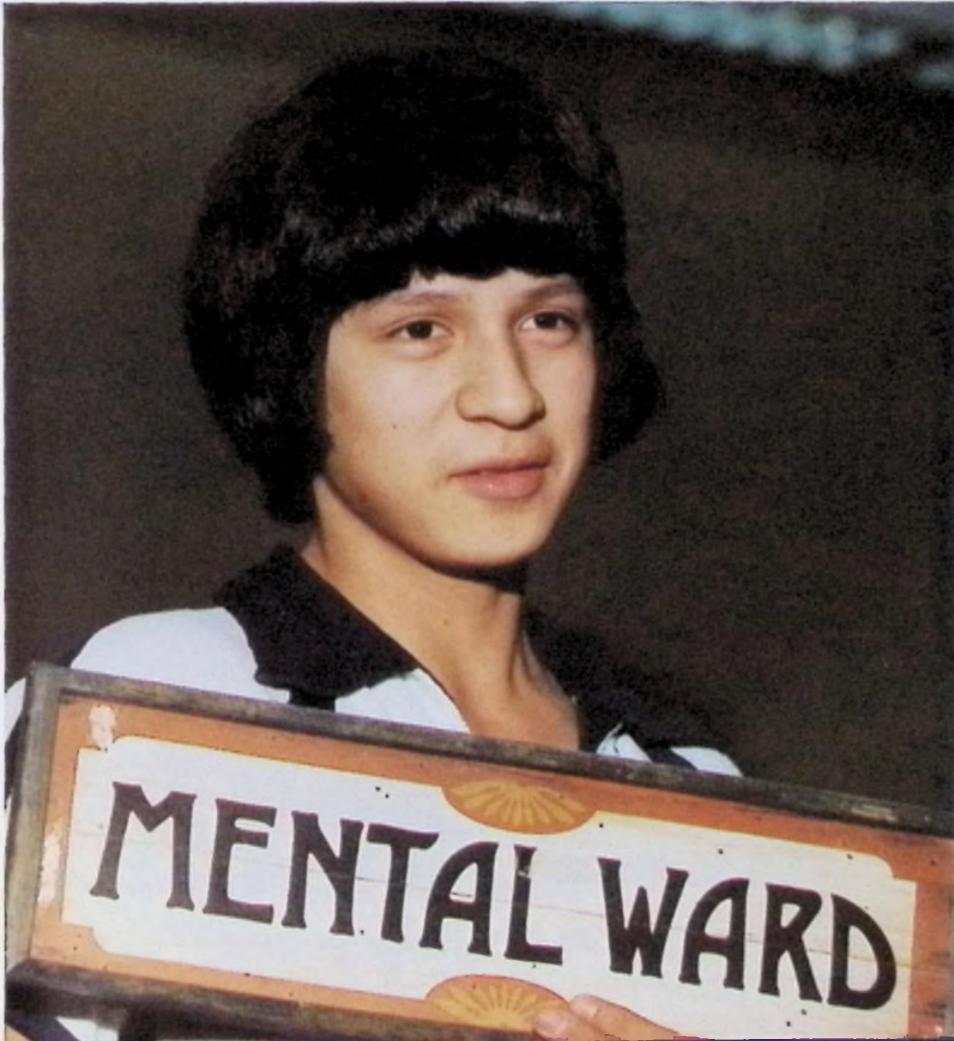

Are you sure this is where the underclass pictures are taken?

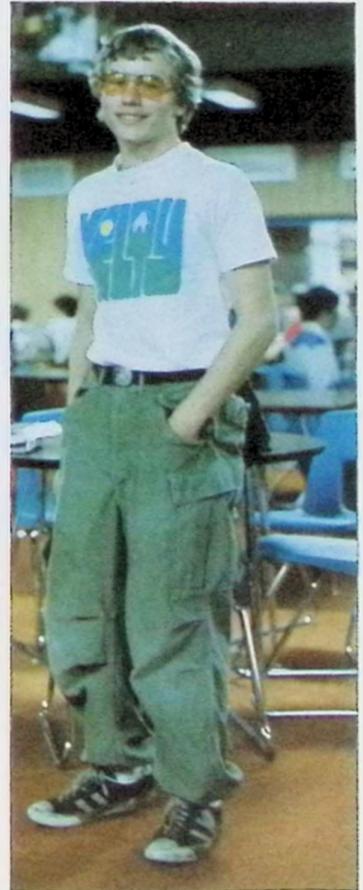

Gee, where's the third stooge?

He's a Sophomore . . . . . need we say more?

Check with me for the latest in fashionable attire.

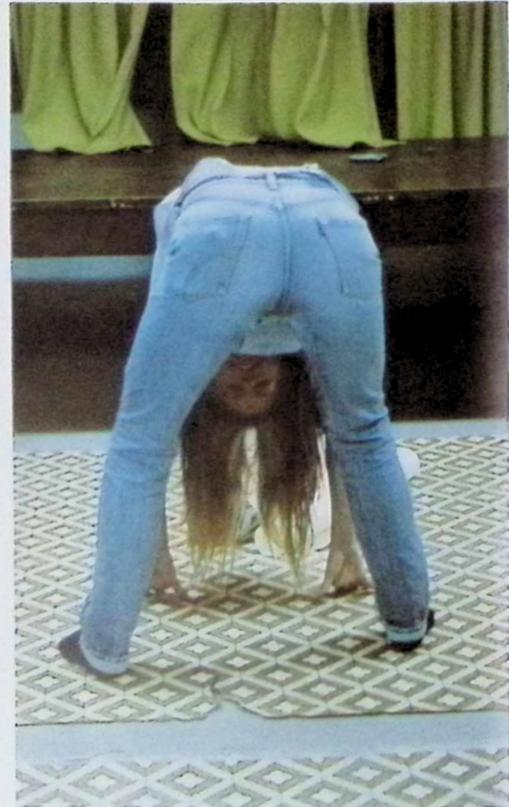

Here at Northland Pines, work is a never ending circle.

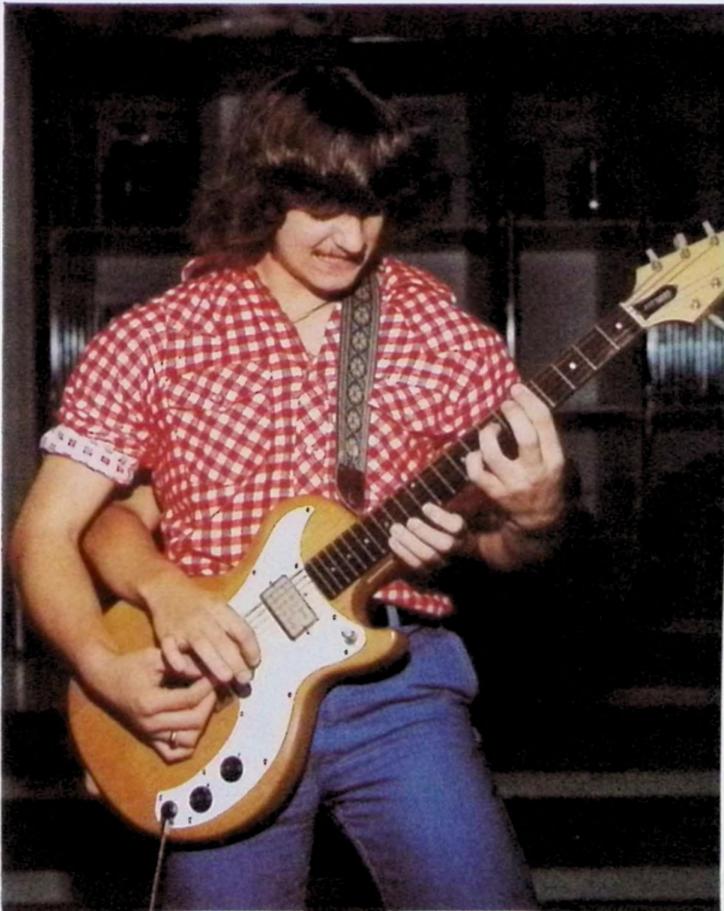

I'm having a whale of a time in IMC.

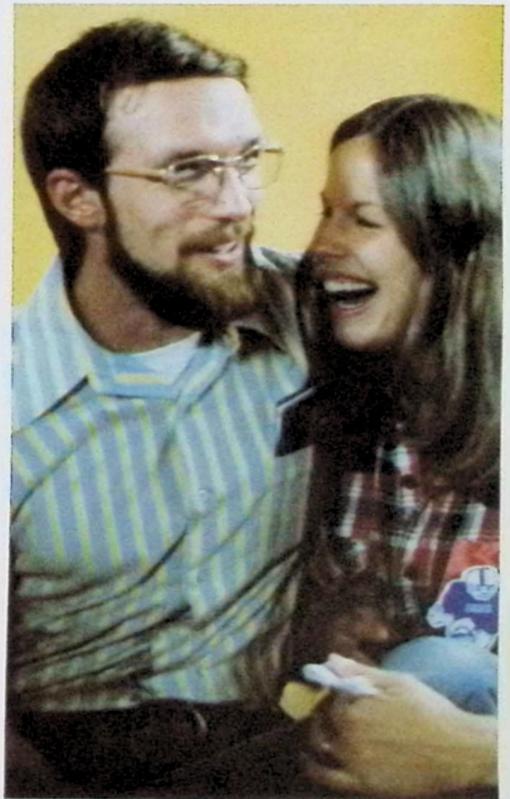

Planning a career in gymnastics, Kelly?

Janelle, I told you to sell those MGM's, not eat them!

It takes two freshmen to play one guitar?

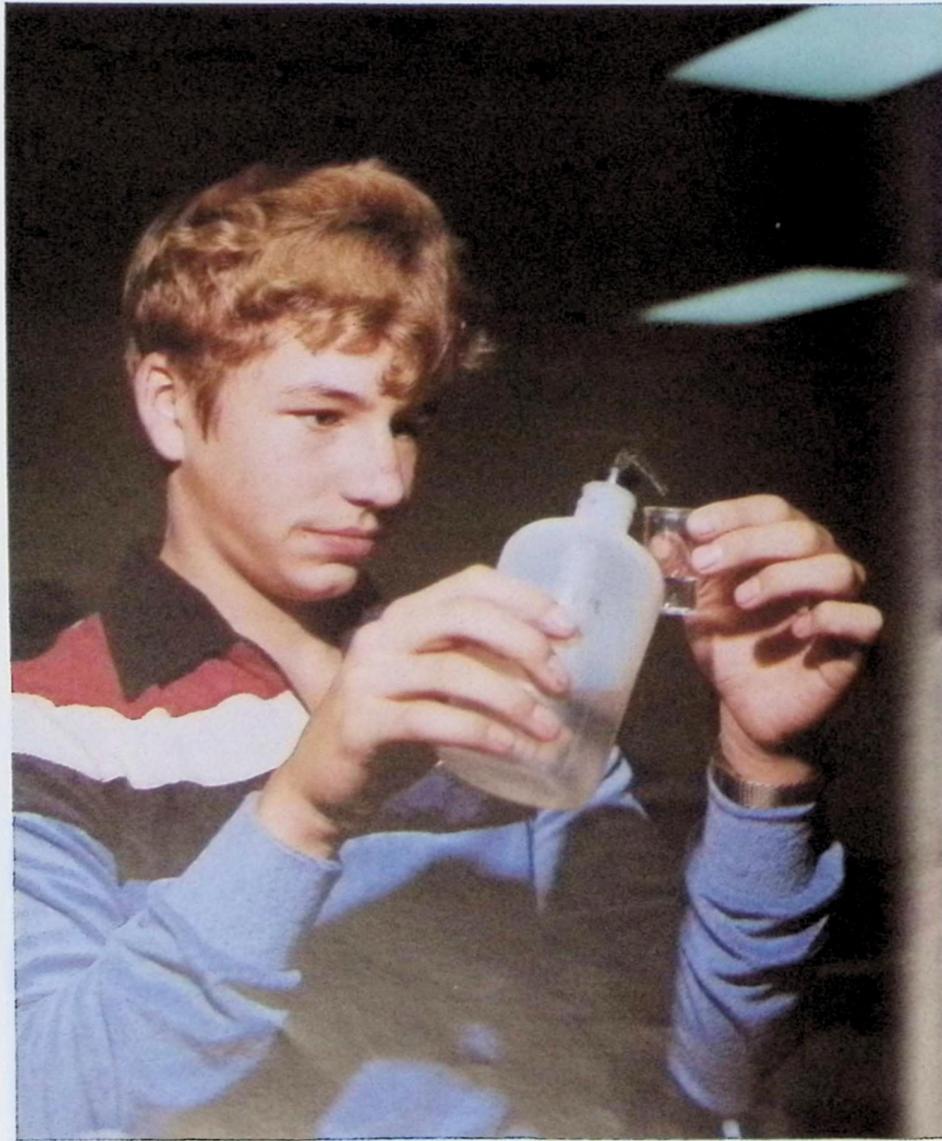

Want to see my John Wayne imitation?

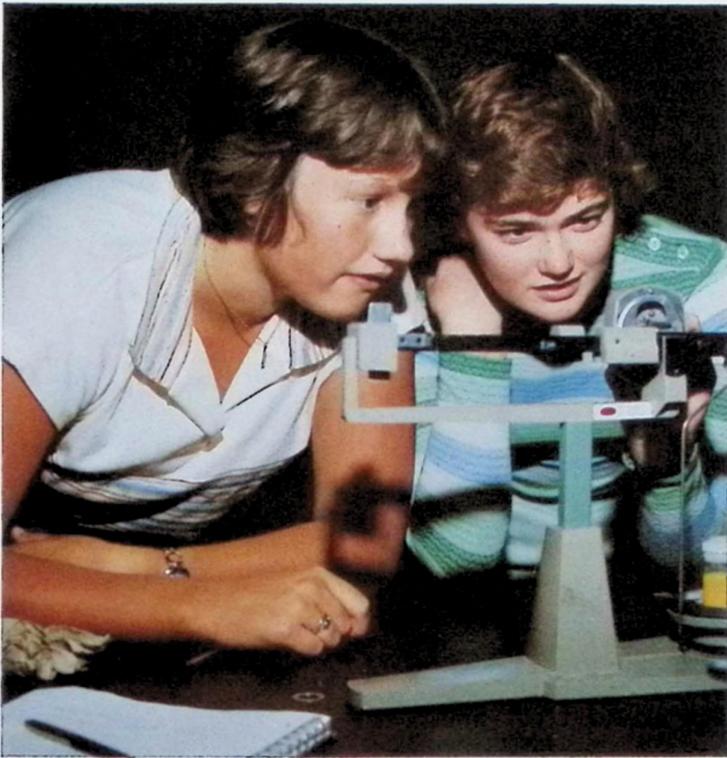

Boy! Who said school was all fun and games? As I cruise through the hallways, I realize what ACADEMICS means at Northland Pines High School. Here come the Biology III students with a bucket of fish; there go those Project Invest girls selling insurance; and Mr. Spicuzza is promoting women's rights in all his lectures. Down in D-Wing, there is all kinds of constructive activity going on. Your step gets a bit more lively as you go by the bandroom and hear that great music. Now it's time to move on to other aspects of life at NPHS.

I wonder if all Nobel scientists started in Environmental Science class?

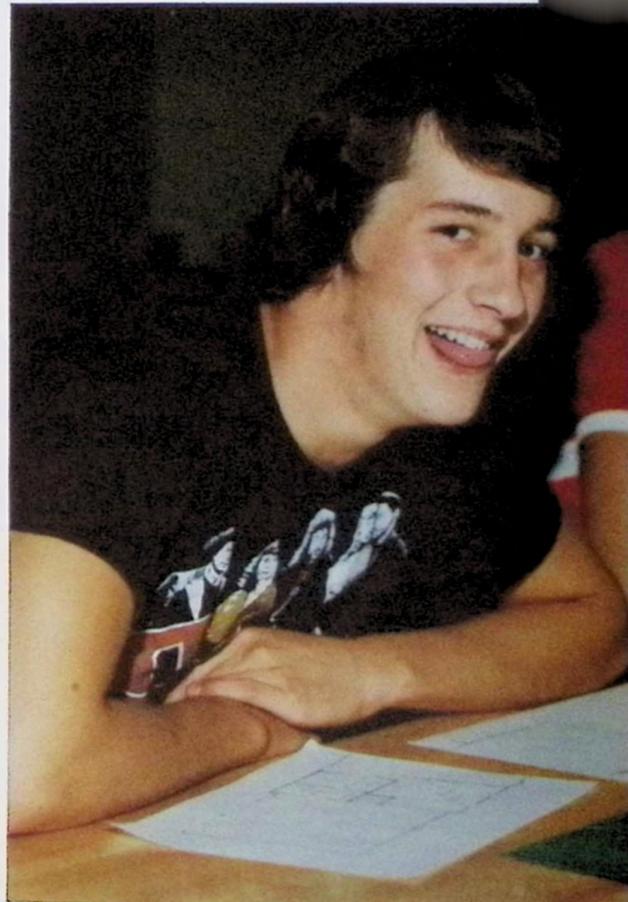

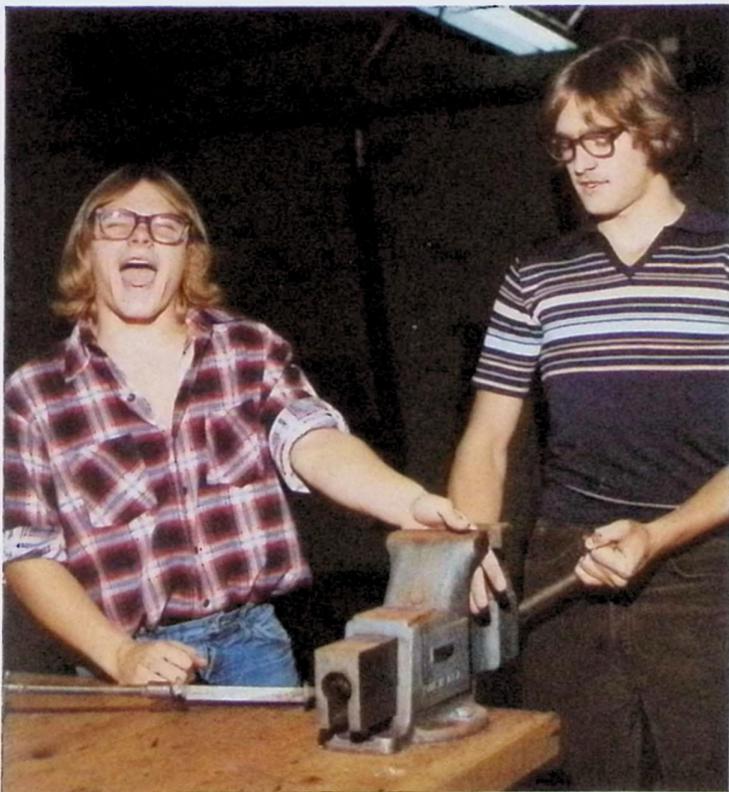

O-o-oh! Sure like that lining!

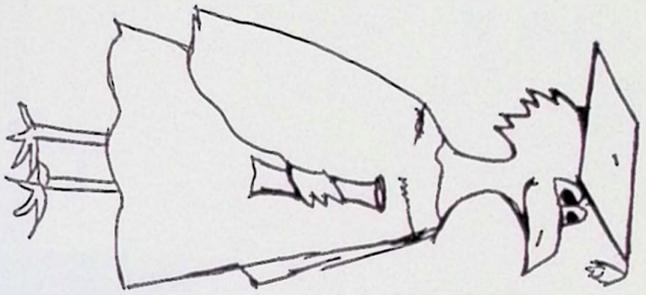

Just weight a minute!
And you think you've got problems.

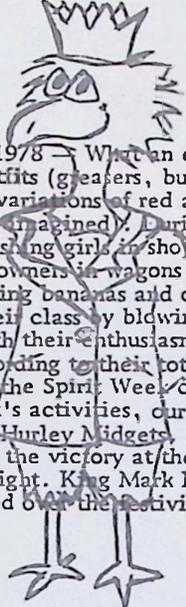

Bob's wrapped his tongue around his eyetooth,
and he can't see what he's saying.

Meet The Class Of 1979

HOMECOMING 1978 — What an experience! I saw some crazy outfits (greasers, burns, nurses, little kids and more variations of red and blue outfits than could ever be imagined). During Slave Days, there were guys pushing girls in shopping carts and girls pulling their owners in wagons. Blindfolded NPHS'ers were eating bananas and others gained spirit points for their class by blowing bubbles or gobbling pies. With their enthusiasm exceeding the other classes, according to their total points, the Class of 1980 won the Spirit Week competition. To highlight the week's activities, our mighty football team stomped the Hurley Midgets. Eagle fans and players celebrated the victory at the Homecoming Dance on Friday night. King Mark Nagy and Queen Patty Ashby reigned over the festivities.

King Mark Nagy and Queen Patty Ashby

Hey Pink Ladies - give us an autograph!

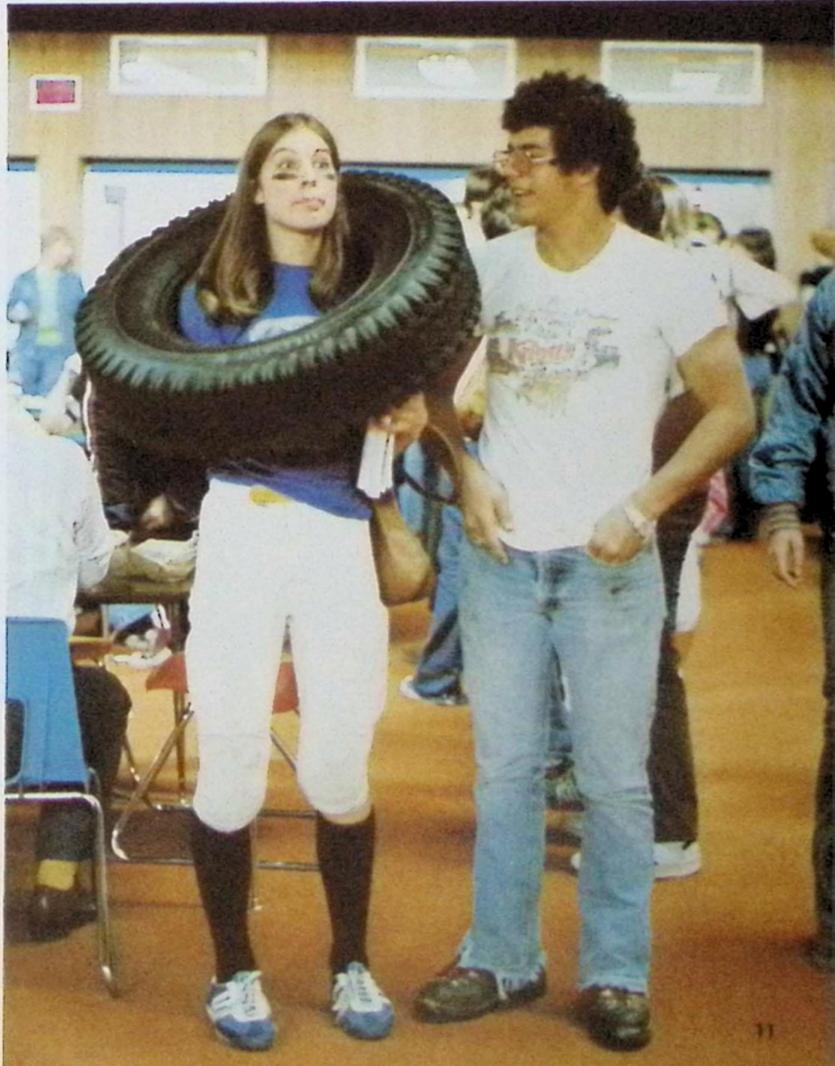

Homecoming is such a warming experience.

Here comes Peter Cottontail - In September?

Does this mean we're engaged?

Pretending to be pious?

Now we know who's full of hot air!
Do you prefer Chiquita or Dole brand bananas?

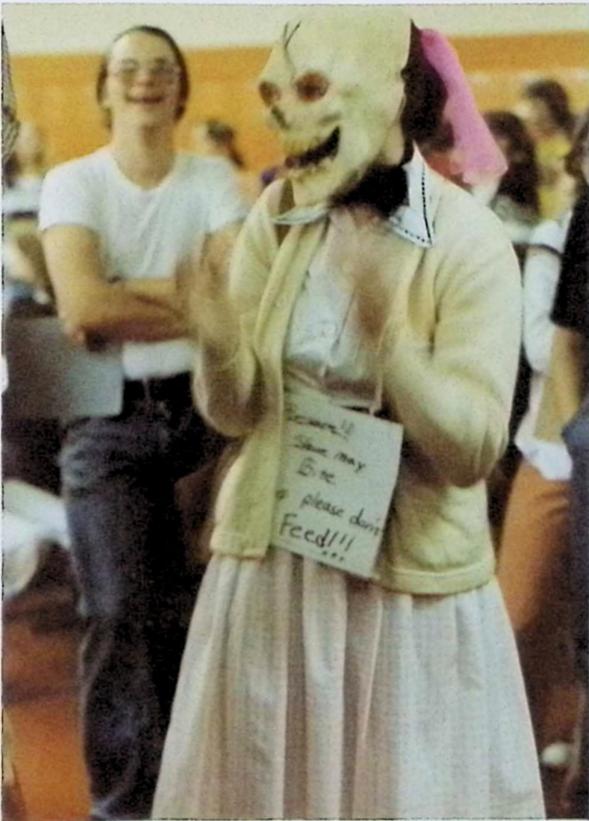

Not all the talent on the field is in a football uniform.

HOMEcomings COURT-Front: Kelly McCormick, Sue DeSmidt, Lori Bradford, Janet Ludwig, Ellen Penn, Queen Patty Ashby. Back: Bryan McKeever, Barry Mess, Jamie Fath, Brent McKeever, Steve Milewski, King Mark Nagy.

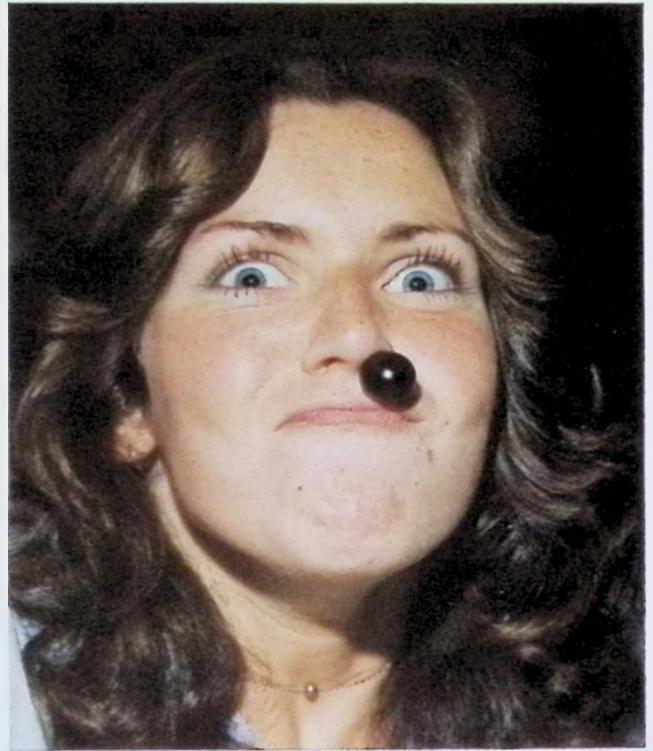

I wonder why no one asked me to the dance?

Did you use food stamps for that purchase?

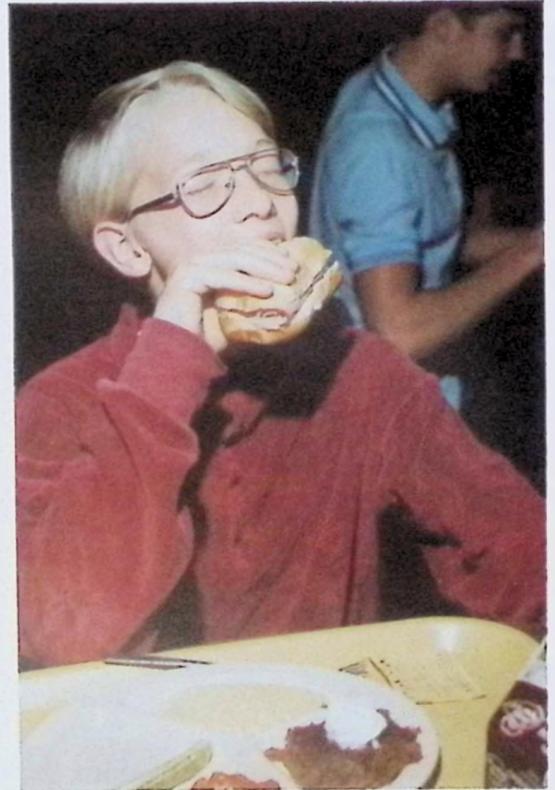

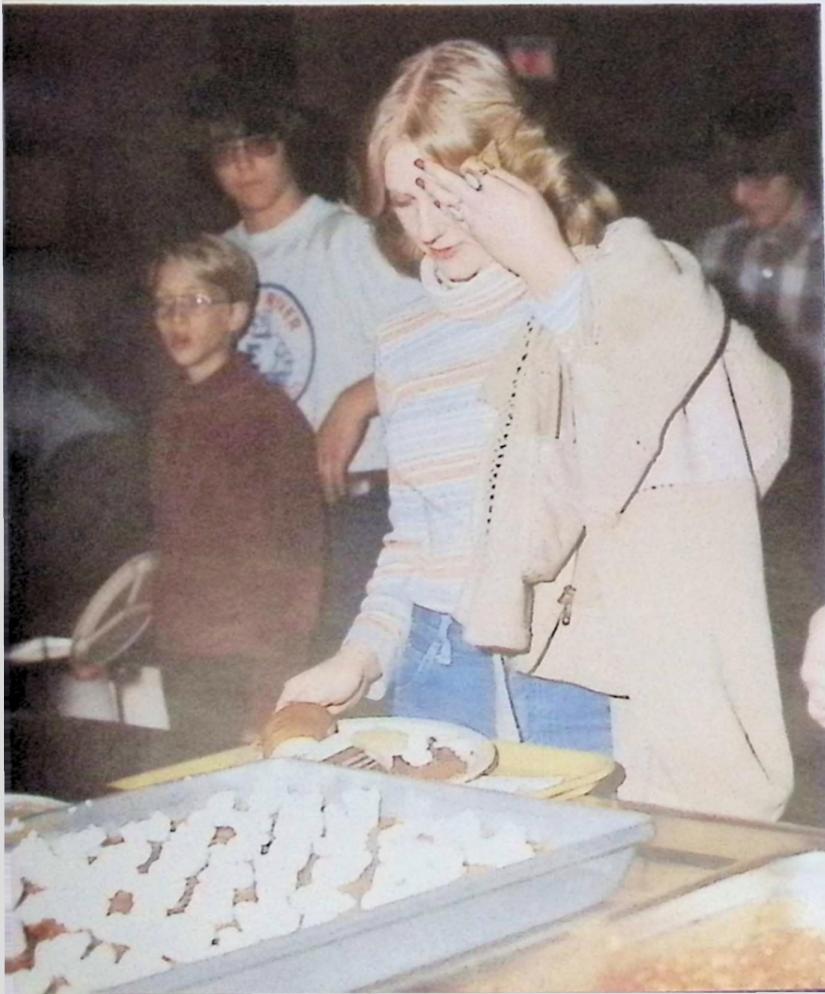

Now my tummy is talking to me. I think I'll stroll down to the cafeteria and see what's going on at LUNCH TIME. The way those kids rush down the hall when the bell rings, you'd think they hadn't eaten for months! Hmmmm, my brown bag delights don't look too appealing; maybe I'll bum a punch from a good buddy (or some Freshman) and see what's offered at the NPHS Commissary. My hunger pains have been eased and I've caught up on all the happenings of the morning. I guess I'm ready to face the rest of the day.

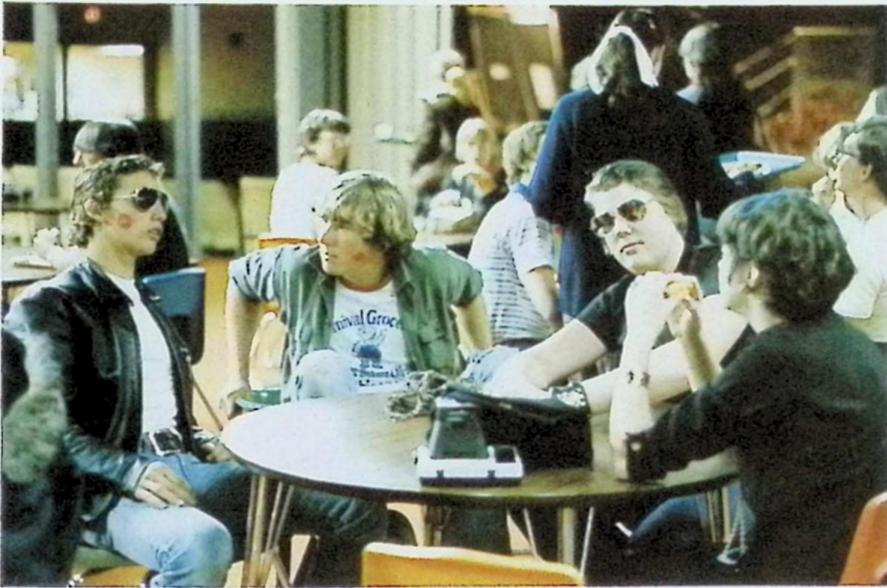

Forget the beans, I'll take the cake.

Lori, you eat olives, not inhale them!

Sub Sandwich in Paradise.

This cafeteria will accept almost anyone !

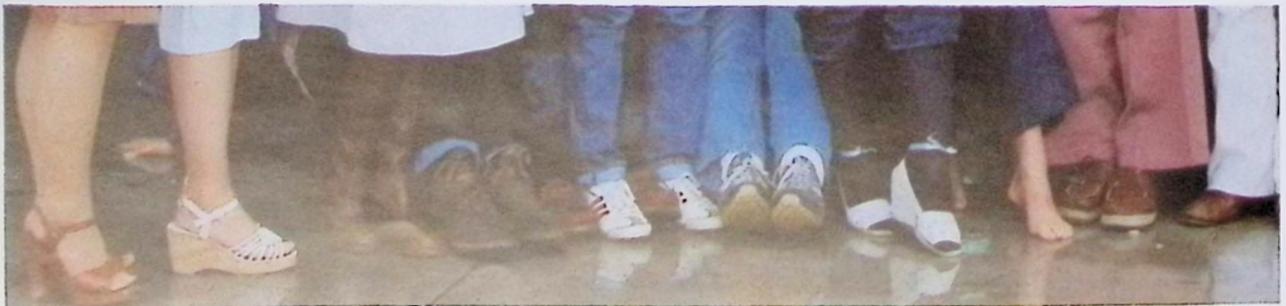

Mom's homemade pickles are better than these.

Why, Janet, such talent! You can eat and scout for guys at the same time.

We've completed our orientation session now. You should have some idea of what kind of characters are roaming these halls. The students of NPHS are an active group. Besides studying for classes, they are busy participating in sports, drama presentations, yearbook, music, and in general, having a good time during their high school career. Just stay with me and you'll get to know the students of Northland Pines from HEAD TO TOE!

Eight seniors will be graduating, but the JV team, with an undefeated season, is looking forward to continuing their winning ways.

At the end of the season, the following awards were presented: Captain: Kyle Faust; MVP: Denise Bueschel; MIP: Pat Olson; All Conference: Denise Bueschel, Kyle Faust; 2nd All Conference: Joyce Tameling.

ACTIVITIES

Yearbook Staff - Our Book Is

If you ever wandered by that orange door off the IMC, that is labeled "Publication Room", you probably heard the strains of WIFC mixed with hysterical laughter, the shuffling of page layouts, someone muttering while writing a caption, and the tapping of an electric typewriter (donated by the very kind Business Education department). From October to February, you could find a dedicated staffer in the room anytime between 3:30 and 10:00 P.M. We hope you enjoy our efforts!

CO-EDITORS Kelly McCormick and Deb Gehlhaart worked hard with their advisor Diane Maurer to coordinate and supervise the production of the 1979 Northern Trail. Deadlines, pictures and finances sometimes drove these three people right up the wall!

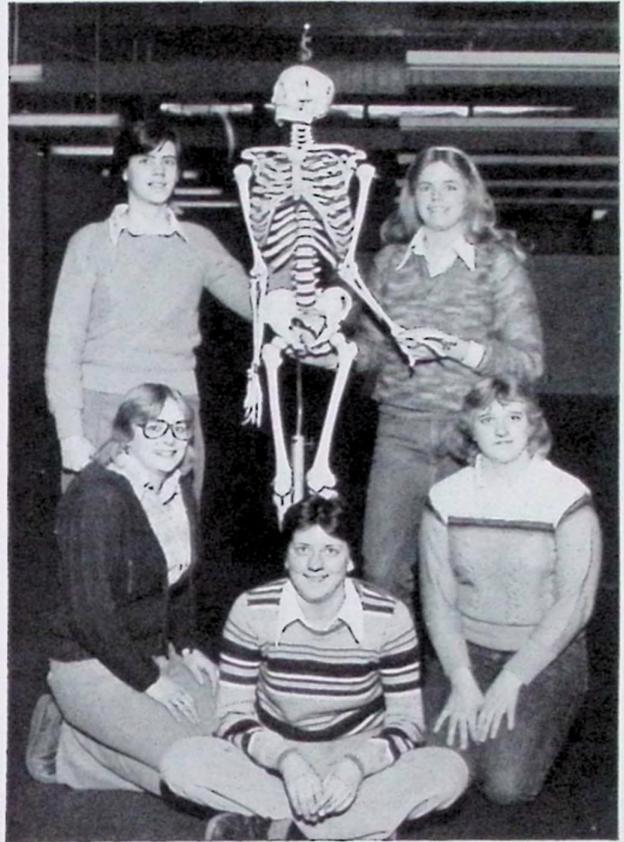

The business people in our district supported our yearbook by purchasing ads. That money meant we could keep the price of your book at $7.00 (despite these inflationary times!), so please support these businesses. Here's our AD STAFF- Front Row: Lori Bradford, Nancy Slizewski, June Vogel, Judy Nagel. Second Row: Barb Klessig, Karla Keck, Shar Temme. Third Row: Kelly McCormick, Juli Waldron, Deb Gehlhaart, Nancy Richards.

RateX "X" (For Extraordinary)

Our PHOTOGRAPHER Nancy Slizewski was present at most NPHS athletic, academic and social events. Her assignment: to record your life and good times at school.

Working with a skeleton crew, the COPY AND LAY-OUT staff worked many late hours and long week-ends to put the book together. Front Row: June Vogel, Deb Gehlhaart, Barb Klæssig. Back Row: Sandy Killinger, Kelly McCormick.

Deb Robertson used her talents to illustrate our yearbook with her ARTWORK creations of Eli Eagle. Cute little guy, isn't he?

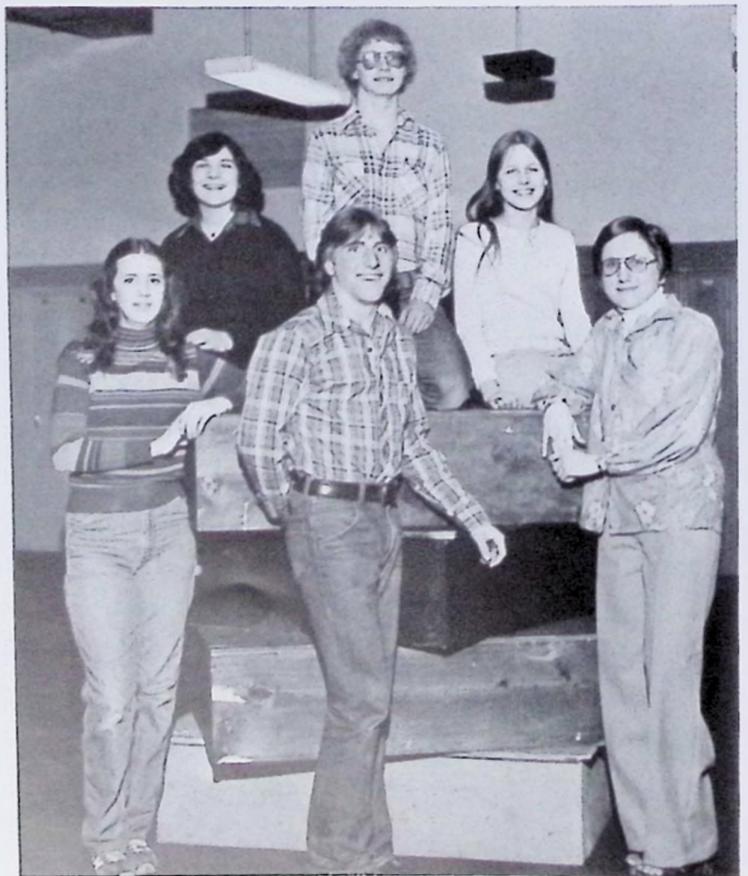

Deb and Kelly burned the midnight oil to meet another deadline. Some fortification was needed to get them through the task.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Freshman Class: Welcome Aboard!!

Here's the Class of 1982 (otherwise known as the Freshmen). Not only is this class small in stature, they are also the smallest class, numbering 161. There were many adjustments to make. Just when they found their classrooms, the bathroom and remembered their seats in the IMC, the study halls were relocated. Besides studying typical Freshmen subjects like Physical Science and Algebra, they joined athletic teams, dramatic productions and cheerleading.

Sophomores — The Upper Underclassmen

With 177 members, the Sophomore class dominated (at least in numbers) the other classes at NPHS. Being rather lively and somewhat ambitious, they participated in most activities at school. Driver's Education and Biology were common classes on a Sophomore's schedule. Ordering and receiving class rings gave them a sense of identity. You could find members of the Class of 1981 marching with the band, acting in plays, contributing to the success of our athletic teams, leading the Student Council, and in general, adding some spirit to life at Northland Pines. An enthusiastic group, they were preparing to assume their role as upperclassmen.

Class of 1980 Discovers New Dimensions

The 168 members of the Class of '80 have adapted well to high school life. Chemistry, Algebra II and Advanced Bio kept their minds working, but there were other aspects to their lives. The obtaining of a driver's license seemed directly related to an increase in a Junior's social life! Prom was the main concern. Many Juniors took the annual history tour to the East. Hurrah! Next year they'll be Seniors ...

SENIORS

Barb Anderson

Now the Senior Class comes into view. What a gang, 163 in all!

Money raising projects were not very popular. The drive of a few enthusiastic Seniors finally emerged and they managed to earn enough money for a Senior Banquet.

Seniors enjoyed sports, talent shows, Homecoming, pep rallies and that typical social phenomenon of friends being in the all-American festive mood-known as a party!

The Class of 1979 made their future plans. The majority chose colleges or universities; others wanted technical schools, armed forces or travel. Everyone learned valuable lessons. At graduation, they felt confident to step out on their own.
